

CARRIER & VEGETABLE OILS

Carrier and vegetable oils are natural plant-based oils that are commonly used in skin care, aroma therapy, and massage. They are derived from the fatty portions of plants, such as seeds, nuts, and kernels, through various methods such as cold pressing or solvent extraction.

Carrier oils are used to dilute and "carry" essential oils, which are highly concentrated and should not be used directly on the skin. They also have their own therapeutic benefits, such as moisturizing, nourishing, and protecting the skin. Some common carrier oils include sweet almond oil, jojoba oil, grape seed oil, and coconut oil.

We offer a wide range of carrier and vegetable oils, all of which are of the highest quality and purity. Our carrier oils are carefully selected and blended to complement and enhance the therapeutic properties of our essential oils. Our vegetable oils and carrier oils undergo strict quality control measures to ensure that they are pure and free from harmful additives.
